

The Square on the HIPPOPOTAMUS

Trumpet & Piano

Wallow in a delightful lecture recital in which trumpet soloist Mark Kesel, accompanied by pianist Ian Westley, explores the World of the trumpet from the time of Pythagoras to the present day.

For this concert, Mark has selected many of his favourite compositions for trumpet, including works by Haydn, Rafael Mendez and Martinu. Through a series of anecdotes and fascinating facts, Mark unravels the mystery of trumpet playing from the harmonic series to the piccolo trumpet.

During this entertaining performance he will demonstrate a myriad of instruments including the peashooter, pocket trumpet, flugel horn, 4-valve E flat, kettle and walking stick trumpet!

An evening of delicious music and chat from the soloist, lecturer and founder of Chaconne Brass, Mark Kesel.

Friday 1st February 2008 - 7.30pm The Victoria Hall (at Reading Town Hall)
Tickets £9 (concs £7) available from Hexagon box office on 0118 9606060 and via www.readingarts.com